OUR WHY

As our community grows, so does our impact. We need your help to continue supporting those affected by brain tumors and their families. At the National Brain Tumor Society, we offer a variety of events, each designed to create awareness, raise funds, and foster a supportive community.

Matthew Beychok
Team M-Chok

Matthew, known as "M-Chok" to his Race for Hope DC team, was a 22-year-old college student, performer, and songwriter when a seizure in late 2020 led to the discovery of a Grade 2 astrocytoma brain tumor. Over the next two years, he underwent three craniotomies, forcing him to take a break from his studies. Despite these challenges, Matthew's determination to reclaim his life never wavered. By 2024, he had returned to work in the restaurant industry, continued pursuing his degree, and reignited his passions for travel, music, and Chelsea soccer. His journey reflects the strength and resilience of so many in the brain tumor community.

Supporting this event enables crucial progress toward better treatments and outcomes for patients like Matthew and all of those affected by brain tumors.
